

European Board of Transplantation Medicine

First Announcement

The 4th Exam for awarding the European Diploma in Transplant Medicine is organised by the European Board of Transplant Medicine of the Division of Transplantation of the UEMS in collaboration with the European Society of Organ Transplantation (ESOT).

Application starts March 15th, 2019 and is opened for both

Junior and Senior transplant physicians

Deadline for application is June 15th, 2019

Junior candidates

Junior transplant physicians should have minimal 2-year training in transplantation medicine for applying. Juniors should apply for the Common Transplantation Medicine Module together with one or more of the Organ Modules: Kidney, Pancreas, Liver and Intestinal/Multivisceral Transplantation. Courses with ESOT educational committee stamp are useful for the preparation of the EBTM exam

Final examination of eligible candidates will take place in Copenhagen on 14th September 2019, the day before ESOT meeting.

Senior candidates

Senior transplant physicians with at least 10 years of continuous experience as specialists practicing in formal nationally recognized posts are eligible to apply for an Honorary Diploma and be exempted of the examination.

Seniors can apply for the following modules: Kidney, Pancreas, Liver and Intestinal/Multivisceral Transplantation.

For more information regarding the eligibility criteria, application and examination process please visit:

<https://uemssurg.org/divisions/transplantation/transplant-medicine/ebsq-examination>

or contact:

Miquel Navasa, Chairman of the European Board of Transplant Medicine at mnavasa@clinic.cat

Anna Paola Mitterhofer, Senior Secretary of the European Board of Transplant Medicine at annapaola.mitter@uniroma1.it

UEMS Operational Office at

office@uemssurg.org